FIVE Zurich

Hailed the hottest new destination in Zurich, the highly anticipated FIVE Zurich has finally opened and combines a venue for local music, art, fashion and culinary experiences with a five-star hotel. Guests can choose from 87 luxurious suites or 62 contemporary rooms, and dine or party the night away at one of the seven dining and nightlife venues. There are also outdoor and indoor pools and a spa.

harry's home hotel in Bern

Situated in the BäreTower, this new hotel is the city of Bern's latest landmark, and offers 116 spacious studios and apartments, all affording wonderful views of the Eiger, Mönch and Jungfrau mountains. In addition to the hotel restaurant, many rooms have fully equipped kitchens for those staying that little bit longer, and Bern's UNESCO-listed city centre is a short SBahn or bus ride away.

Villa Maria in Lucerne

The recently reopened Villa Maria is a great option for anyone who likes art and interior design, with six rooms and two suites featuring contemporary art by Nina Staehli and furniture designed by Daniel Hunziker. A stay here is rather like stepping back in time to the 1950s when the hotel was built, so guests can enjoy a modern spin on classic retro.

The Beau-Rivage Palace in Lausanne

The historic wing of the Beau-Rivage Palace, known as the Beau-Rivage wing, has just reopened following extensive renovations. All rooms and suites have been gutted, rebuilt and equipped with state-of-the-art connectivity and smart automation systems. What's more, the modular design of these new rooms makes it possible to create ad hoc suites up to 2,712 sq ft in size out of several rooms.
